

Durbar, Vol. 24, Nos. 1-4, 2007

No. 1

The Java Campaign of 1811-1816 including a list of East India Company Officers who served in Java (single issue journal)

No. 2

Ceylon Volunteers of the Burma Campaign: the forgotten veterans of the 'Forgotten Campaign' (1941-1945)

The Java Campaign of 1811-1816 (Part II)

A Brief History of the Sialkot District during World War I

No. 3

The Java Campaign of 1811-1816 (Part III) – the court martial of Cornet Frederick Peret, the return of the Java Light Cavalry to India and the mutiny of the 7th (or Bengal Light Infantry) Volunteer Battalion during 1815

Obituary – Major General Chand N Das OBE

Kotah and the uprising of 1857-58

Some additional notes on the Kotah Army

Book Notes:

- The Great Uprising in India 1857-58 – untold stories, Indian and British
- Churchill's Lions. A Biographical Guide to the British Generals of World War II

No. 4

Editorial (new Editor)

The Java Campaign of 1811-1816 (Part IV)

Origins of Mutiny – the words of Sheikh Hedayat Ali

Vindication of the 1st Bombay Light Cavalry in the general outbreak of mutiny at Nasirabad, 28th May 1857